OUR VISION

The art of the gesture, rooted in heritage and tradition

Our commitment to silhouette art goes beyond preserving it.

We are passionate about keeping it alive, helping it evolve and continuing to write its story. We want to open up new horizons and share it far beyond the traditions in which it began.

Because a living heritage is passed on as much as it is reinvented.

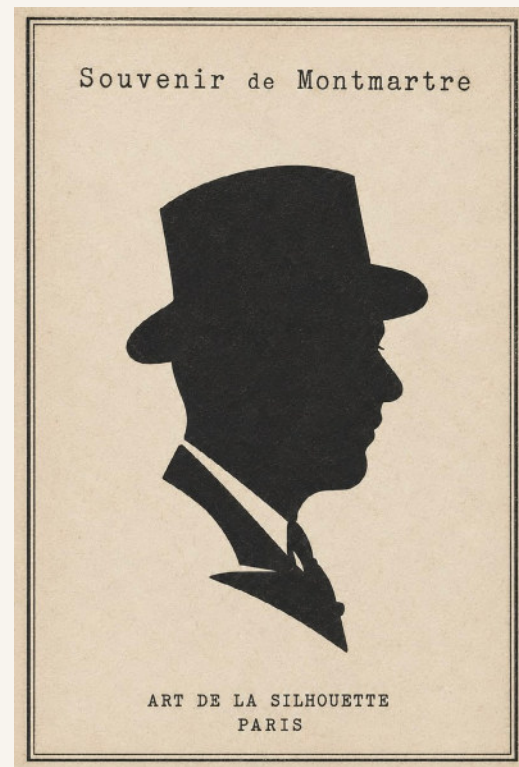

THREE GENERATIONS OF CRAFTSMANSHIP

A rare art, passed down with exacting standards and reimagined for its time.

It all began in the 1960s, when our grandfather revived the art of silhouette portraiture in Montmartre.
Three generations later, Inès Stankovska founded La Silhouettiste & Co, turning this family heritage into an established house.

Today, this rare craft continues to be passed on with the same commitment to precision, observation and elegance.
We work with leading luxury houses, institutions and private events in France and around the world.

FOUNDER

INÈS STANKOVSKA · LA SILHOUETTISTE
Heir to a rare art. A contemporary vision of portraiture.

Founder of La Silhouettiste & Co

Inheriting this family art, Inès Stankovska chose to reinvent and modernise it, bringing a more contemporary, feminine and refined vision.

For more than fifteen years, she has performed around the world and collaborated with leading luxury houses and institutions.

Her fascination with people and questions of identity now inspires her to create bespoke works and experiences, with silhouette art as the connecting thread.

THE TEAM

One house, four artists, the same exacting standards.

A family house specialising in silhouette art, La Silhouettiste & Co brings together a core team of Inès, Mélanie, Tino and Mahel.

United by family ties and a passion for this living art, we share the same pleasure: continuing to inspire wonder, one portrait at a time.

Depending on the scale of the event, the House can bring in additional artists to support larger projects.

EXPLORE FURTHER

Bespoke experiences for the most discerning projects.

Over the years, our work in portraiture has led us to imagine experiences where identity, symbolism and art direction meet.

This is how The Rising Line came into being, our concept studio dedicated to bespoke creations.

Here, we develop established concepts such as celestial portraits, totem portraits and olfactory portraits, as well as entirely original creations imagined for a brand, a venue or an event.

Every project is designed to tell a story, express a distinctive world and offer an experience that is uniquely yours.

As each project requires, we bring together the most suitable artists and expertise to bring this vision to life.
